

I would like to see the current Indiana telephone privacy act remain in force as written. Since it's inclusion I have only had political calls and would like to see them banished also. At least as it now stands, the silence of predator businesses is wonderful. If I want to talk to a previous contact, I am certainly intelligent enough to find their number or e-mail address and do so.

Thanks for listening,

Richard Oliver